Regarding legal settlement Microsoft/DOJ

I believe that the lawsuit was very unnecessary, considering other very large companies who have of late become conglomerates. Time Warner to name a high profile situation. Then we have the oil companies, and the supermarkets and the pharmaceutical companies, etc. There are others as well. I feel this was a rather selective law suit and I certainly feel Microsoft has been reasonable and responsive enough. For heavens sake settle this!. It is the American way to compete and create, therefore excell. I am astounded that this even has occured, and yes I am aware of the circumstances and this is my opinion. wonder what DOJ would do to Henry Ford today??
